LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS BECKHAM

THE CLOSEST ATTENTION WAS GIVEN THROUGHOUT THE SENATOR'S SPEECH.

United States Senator J. C. W. Beckham spoke in Louisa last Monday. The court house was packed with people, many of whom stood in the aisles throughout the two hours the Senator spoke. It was one of the most attentive audiences we have seen gathered to hear a political speech. Many women were present.

Senator Beckham spoke in his usual fair manner, giving credit to the Republicans for all they did in the war and in Congress.

By request of Chairman R. L. Vinson Mr. Beckham was introduced to the audience by Miss Elizabeth Conley, who urged upon the good women of Kentucky the importance of voting, both as a duty and as a matter of self defense.

From Senator Beckham's Speech.

The following is a part of what Senator Beckham said:

The Democratic party entered this campaign with the strongest case that any party ever presented to the American people in the last fifty years. It stands upon a record of matchless achievements, in peace and in war, that have fulfilled the highest hopes and promises of its friends, and have at the same time astounded and confused the minds of its adversaries. In the most eventful and tragic period of the world's history it has guided the destinies of this great nation with wisdom and success that it should command the approval and admiration of all fair-minded people. In its seven years of power it has accomplished more for the welfare of our people and for the good of mankind than its chief rival, the Republican party, ever accomplished from the day of its birth to the present time. . . . The Democratic party's record is unassailable and impregnable. It deserves an endorsement.

In these seven years of power there fell upon the Democratic party responsibilities and difficulties such as never before fell upon any other administration in our history. It came into control of the government on March 4, 1913. It had elected a President and a majority in each house of Congress. It was the first time since the Civil War that it had been in real control of the Government and in a position to crystallize into laws the principles and policies for which it had contended in all those years of its exile from power.

Our Republican friends had unceasingly preached for so long that the Democratic party did not have the business capacity and constructive statesmanship to conduct the affairs of the Government that many people had come to believe it; and, consequently, when it did come into control, its supporters felt doubt and uneasiness about its success, while the Republicans openly prophesied its failure and collapse. That was in 1913.

Since then both the misgivings of its friends and the evil predictions of its opponents have been completely dispelled.

The "Panic-proof" Currency Law.

One measure alone enacted in that period, through the labors and constructive statesmanship of the Democratic administration should entitle the party to an endorsement, even if it had done nothing else of a constructive character. I speak of the Federal Reserve law, the burglar-proof, panic-free, Democratic Federal Reserve law—the greatest and most beneficial work of financial legislation ever enacted in this country. It took indefatigable labor, it took statesmanship of the highest order, it took unflinching courage and determination to pass that law against the opposition of the powerful moneyed and banking interests of the country, of the greed and avarice of predatory wealth and of the almost solid opposition of the Republican membership of Congress. It was the greatest legislative victory in the interest of the people and of legitimate industries ever won in this country. It was a principle for which the Democratic party had contended for a generation, the principle that the control of money and credit should be taken out of the hands of private institutions or great banking corporations, and placed in the hands of the Government, where it should always have been.

Money Trust Control.

The financial system of the country, built up and maintained by the Republican party from the time it came into power, was the most insidious and monstrous scheme of robbery under the forms of law ever devised in a modern civilized country. It was not only unjust, it was infamous. It created a Money Trust more powerful than the Government itself. It was a mother of periodical panics deliberately incited or permitted that property and labor might be cheap in order that the money of the favored few might become more valuable. It was a constant menace to honest industry and business. It was a curse to the farmer and laborer. It should be a reproach to the American people that, with their intelligence and patriotism, they should have allowed it to continue as long as they did, with the wrong and frequent business calamities which it inflicted upon them. But it was the bulwark of the Republican strength, and the guardian angel in their campaigns. It was the power that propagated the idea, believed by so many American people until now, that the Democratic party did not have "the brains and the constructive ability" to administer the finances and affairs of this great Government. But that fallacy or falsehood was exploded.

In 1914 the Democratic Congress framed and passed and President Wilson signed that great measure, which amounted to a proclamation of financial and industrial emancipation of the American people. It was passed in the face of Republican opposition. On final passage in the Senate the vote stood: for it, 47 Democrats, 7 Republicans; against it, no Democrat, 34 Republicans. In the House: for it, 248 Democrats, 28 Republicans; against it, no Democrat and 85 Republicans.

Under that law our country has safely weathered the severest financial storms and dangers of panics that ever threatened us. Upon its solid foundation this Government has become the strongest and safest nation in its finances upon earth and has been transformed from a debtor to a creditor nation. If such a law had been in existence in 1893 or 1907, the panics of those years, with their long trains of financial disaster and sufferings would not have occurred. And the crime of it all is in the fact that similar legislation might have been passed in time to avert them. Our Republican friends cannot plead ignorance as an excuse for not doing so. The truth of the matter is that the Republican leaders were so obligated and bound to the beneficiaries of the old system that they dared not attempt to change it. They kept faith with their masters and to the very last fought against the passage of the bill embodying the incalculable benefits of the new system.

THE STREET PAVING.

The street-paving work has suffered from a labor shortage for a few days, owing to farm work taking men away.

IN THE BLAINE OIL FIELDS

King & Kingery have contracted with the Union Gas & Oil company to drill 50 wells on its property in the upper Blaine and Keaton territory.

Well No. 5 on the J. J. Gambill farm is as good as the others on this place. Drilling has started on the James P. Skaggs farm of 142 acres on Coal creek.

The Oliver Wheeler well is reported to be good for 20 barrels.

The large pumping station and storage plant built near Blaine town by the Cumberland Pipe Line company is about ready for operation. A six-inch line is being laid from there into the field. It is said a larger line will have to be laid soon from Blaine to Busseyville to take care of the production.

This is now considered one of the best fields in Kentucky.

Mr. Young, President of the South Penn Oil company of Pittsburgh, was the guest of President A. B. Ayers, of the Union company, last week.

This Story Has a Familiar Flavor

Owing to a deadlock in the Fiscal Court of Martin county, all the road work and other public improvements over the county have been tied up now for almost a year.

A disagreement arose between the county judge and the magistrates of the county over the question as to how the road funds for the year, 1919, should be spent. This was in the fall of 1919. The magistrates wanted to oversee the road work themselves, while the judge insisted that special men who were not members of the Fiscal Court should do this work.

On their failure to get together, the judge refused to call the Fiscal Court into session. Then the magistrates met on their own accord, and proceeded to use the road funds in working the roads under their own direction. After they had spent the levy for the year, 1919, and a few thousand besides the county judge succeeded in having Circuit Judge J. F. Bailey to issue a temporary injunction restraining the magistrates from spending more than the 1919 levy. This they had done already. The case is expected to be tried by Judge Bailey at the next term of Circuit Court, and his decision is anxiously awaited.

As to the outcome of the controversy it would be hard to predict what will happen, but one thing is certain, the real losers in the end will be the people.—Martin County Advertiser.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Stone and Mr. Thomas J. Beavers was solemnized on Thursday morning at half after ten o'clock in the M. E. Church South.

The beautiful edifice had been decorated for the occasion by a tasteful arrangement of ferns, potted plants and golden rod making it a fitting scene for the celebration of the nuptials.

Before the ceremony a duet was sung by Miss Opal Spencer and Mr. W. T. Cain, Jr., which was very pleasing and appropriate.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. G. R. Vinson. The ushers, Mrs. W. L. McElroy and Miss Opal Spencer, Miss Clara Bromley and Miss Julia Snyder took their places near the chancel. Then Mr. B. E. Surrounded by these attendants and a church filled with friends the ceremony was impressively read by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. D. Bell. The bride and groom left the church amidst showers of rice and congratulations, driving to the C. and A. station, where many of their friends went to see them off and extend best wishes for their future happiness.

KENTUCKY IS SMALL FLOUR CONSUMER

Washington.—The percentage of cake-eaters, biscuit-eaters, pie-eaters and consumers of bread and other flour products is relatively smaller in Kentucky than in most of the other states, according to figures of the Department of Agriculture. The per capita consumption of flour in Kentucky, according to statistics compiled by the Bureau of Crop Estimates from previous estimates made by several thousand flour distributors, is lower than all except seven other states.

The average yearly consumption of flour in Kentucky is one barrel for each person, according to the comparative figures. The only states whose average per capita consumption is lower than this are Rhode Island, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas.

New Mexico consumes more flour per capita than any other State, its average for each person being 1.76 barrels.

Low-Cost Mileage—in Goodyear Tires for Small Cars

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $23.50
30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread..... $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $4.50 30 x 3 1/2 size in waterproof bag.

GOODYEAR

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3 1/2- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dort or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires—for true Goodyear mileage, value, economy.

HEN'S FLY.

ESTEP

The program for Children's Day was rendered at Garrett Chapel and was a great success. The chapel was not large enough to seat the people and all present gave us congratulations on our work. Our young ladies and men did their parts well. One of the touching scenes was the old rugged cross with 12 children kneeling around the cross, the six little boys with letters to spell Praise, six little girls with flowers and appropriate verses, decorating the cross at close.

Three of our little people ranging in age from 3 to 6, nobly offered a prayer, by Willie Belle Allen, "What Shall I Give Him;" Chas. Fannin, "Carry One to Jesus;" Chas. Hall.

An interesting dialogue was delivered by Delbert Powers and Bert Queen, two of our leading young men. "The Christian Warfare with Satan." This dialogue was brought from England by Mrs. Margaret Hall who has passed the three score year and ten, and was recited in England in her girlhood days. It was perfectly grand.

Another number of interest was "The Hearts of Gold," by our young ladies and one young man and 24 small children with Misses Cosby Alley the leading character. The angel of the flowers. Mary McGlothlin was Mother Earth, Lula Powers, Apple Blossom, and Mr. Ballard Easton, Dandelion. This was delivered to perfection and should have a great influence in our community.

Mrs. Chas. Stewart gave a nice temperance recitation, and Beulah McGlothlin brought down the audience with the "Old Circuit Rider's Last Ride."

We not only have some of the ablest speakers in the East Fork valley but the ones that will do their parts and do them with energy. The house was decorated in purple and white.

This program was gotten up by Mrs. F. T. Hall, Mrs. W. D. Queen and Dr. J. C. Hall. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Queen are efficient Sunday School workers and Dr. Hall is not only one of the leading physicians of the country, but one of our great Sunday School workers, and a friend to any one in need or grief and a worker for anything in the name of the Lord.

DONITHON

Everybody in our community is busy cutting corn and tobacco at present.

Mrs. James Lemaster was calling on Griffith Creek relatives Sunday.

Mrs. Millard Wallace, we are sorry to state, is no better.

Our baseball club by securing two new teams which Geo. Hardwick was kind enough to offer and all available horses and mules went to Gallup Sunday and brought to the dust the idolized teams of Gallup and Cherryville combined. Our twirler, Nibert Damron, did splendid work on the mound, to say that it was commendable would not justify him; it was wonderful. Score 3 to 0 in favor of Donithon.

We also wish to correct the error Cherryville correspondent in his reference to the Glenhays ball team in a recent issue. I as one present say that at this particular game no Glenhays boys were present but only a Donithon and "near Donithon" team.

NEWPORT WOMAN SAYS IT'S GRAND

BEFORE TAKING TANLAC SHE HAD TO SPEND HALF HER TIME IN BED—GAINS 22 POUNDS.

"Although it has been four years now since Tanlac restored my health I am still feeling fine," said Mrs. Jennie Williams, 141 Fourteenth and Central Ave., Newport, Ky., recently.

"Yes, sir, it not only restored my health, but I gained twelve pounds by taking it," said Mrs. Williams. "I had been suffering from stomach trouble for at least four years before I began taking Tanlac. My appetite was very poor and I got to where I suffered so much after meals I just dreaded eating a thing. I would blot up badly with gas that pressed against my heart until it pained dreadfully and I could hardly get my breath. Then too, my food felt heavy and caused intense pains in the pit of my stomach. At last, I was put on a milk diet, but in spite of this and the fact that I tried all kinds of treatments and medicines, I continued to grow worse. My nerves were so badly upset I could never get a good night's sleep and always felt tired and worn out in the mornings. I also lost considerable weight. Finally getting so weak I could not do my housework, spending about half my time in bed.

"By the time I had taken half a bottle of Tanlac I noticed I was getting better and by the time I had finished my fourth bottle I was feeling as good as I ever did in my life. I have a splendid appetite, can eat just anything I want and everything agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are in such fine shape I can sleep like a child all night long. In fact I just feel like a new woman, and can do my housework with as much ease as ever. From that day to this I have never had the slightest touch of my old troubles and have enjoyed the best of health. At the time I began taking Tanlac my sister and cousin also started on it, and it did them a world of good."

Tanlac is sold in Louisa by Mrs. J. H. Reynolds.

VIRGINIA G. O. P. TO LOSE ONLY CONGRESSMAN

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB—AND ITS SCOPE

Every year the Presidency of the United States grows more important, until now it is recognized as the biggest job in the world. Yet few people realize that the president is not chosen by a majority vote and that several of our presidents have not been the most popular choice of all the people. This fact is clearly discussed in the story of the Presidency, one of the series of articles on Our Government, which we are issuing monthly.

If you are not receiving this material, drop in and let us add your name to the list of those to whom we are sending it each month.

Owing to the fact we have ceased to contract for sorghum at a stipulated price the report has gone out that we do not desire any additional sorghum. This is a mistake. We are anxious to secure all of the sorghum which we can possibly buy.

Owing to the fact that there now exists only about fifteen days until sorghum will be moving we are contracting only on market price. This does not affect people who have signed contracts with us and only has reference to people who have no contracts whatever with us. We will be in the market for approximately two thousand barrels of sorghum but we will contract for no sorghum from now on except on the basis of market value each day.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce CHARLEY EDWARDS as a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Court Clerk of Lawrence-co., at the primary to be held in August, 1921.

Friday, September 24, 1920.

Those who want to become informed on the League of Nations should not fail to read the article of Dr. Crane, published in this issue of the NEWS.

An enormous bomb was exploded in Wall Street, New York, a few days ago at noon, killing 30 persons, wounding about 300 and doing great damage to buildings. It was the work of anarchists.

Gov. Cox is pointing out the fact that certain unscrupulous rich men who formerly held the financial life of the United States in their hands, and abused their power with panics and near panics, and with manipulation of the markets, are trying to buy the Presidency again. He has presented indisputable documents and evidence to sustain the truth of the report of the disgraceful and alarming scheme.

Mr. Harding said, immediately after his nomination, that he favored going back to the old plan of "government by party"—to "normalcy," a word he coined all by himself, they say.

"Government by party" is what prevented the United States from having a Federal Reserve law 40 years sooner. The "party" lost control of the country for their own selfish and greedy ends when Woodrow Wilson smashed through their Hindenburg line and defied every barrage they sent out. He set Congress to work on this currency law immediately after his inauguration and it is the greatest law for the protection of the masses that has ever been enacted. Instead of Wall Street as the one money center, in the hands of rich gamblers and merciless sharks, there are now 12 money centers in the hands of honorable, competent men.

The "Government by party" plan is simply gang rule. If returned to power that gang will ruin the Federal Reserve law with amendments that remove its best features and restore the pirates to their old time place. Panics will again become possible and a constant menace to business. Do you want gang rule restored?

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

A SUMMING UP OF THE ARGUMENTS BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

(Dr. Crane is the most widely read writer in America today. Nearly all the leading newspapers buy his daily article on subjects of every kind.)

Thus would I sum up the points in the League of Nations, to date:

1. It is the most important issue in the world.

It is more important than any issue that has ever occurred in the history of mankind.

Compared with it, all economic and industrial questions are small because, if we cannot stop war, industry will always be subject to periodic destruction.

2. Compared with it all subjects of dispute between churches and creeds are insignificant, for war is the triumph of materialism and heathenism.

3. If you are going to oppose the League of Nations to me, you must propose some other way to stop war, or I will not listen.

4. It took the most fearful war of history to induce the nations to get together and consider the League of Nations. Must we wait for another?

5. I have been a lifelong Republican, and my father was a Republican before me. Politicians who are peevish because the League was proposed by the opposite political party, or by a President they do not like, should be willing to swallow their pride and favor the League in spite of objections.

6. If they cannot do this they put partisanship above humanity, and are enemies to the human race.

7. It is vastly more needful that some sort of League be formed, any sort, than that it be formed perfectly.

8. We must remember this is a new step for the nations; we must expect imperfections. All beginnings are difficult. But it is of such overwhelming importance to mankind that we ought to be very patient.

9. America started the League. It is our League. It means the Americanization of the world. For Americanization means the principle of Federation. It is the beginnings of a Government of the World, on the model of the Government of the United States. Lord Birkenhead the other day said:

"The Americans created the League of Nations. It is their child. At the moment when America's power was the strongest, that trumpet note was heralded to a world broken and stricken with the sacrifice of war—an unforgettable message of idealistic hope—and for it full responsibility must be borne by the American nation."

There is no doubt that this is the belief of all Europe and Asia. Having begun this magnificent scheme, shall we scuttle it, just because of partisan quarrels at home?

10. The League is now in operation. It is not a mere proposal. Thirty-four nations responded to the appeal of America's President. Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and thirty others now belong. The thing has gone too far; we cannot stop it now.

11. If we do not join, what else can we do? Can we stay out, and remain forever isolated from the rest of the world?

12. We have to do business with other nations some way. If they are all in a League, shall we stay out, as a suspicious enemy, or an arrogant, egoistic stranger?

13. Let us look to the company we keep. These nations that have formed the League are our Allies. A little while ago we were fighting by their side for the salvation of the world. French, British and Italian, blood mingled with American blood to soak the plains of Europe. Are we going to stand by our pals, or go over to the other crowd?

14. For if not this League, we must line up with the other. The other fellows are Germany, Austria, Russia, Turkey and Mexico. They are not in the League.

15. Good Lord, deliver us!

16. We talk of the Monroe Doctrine. We fear for our independence. We dread a Superstate that shall boss us. We denounce the League as plotting to sacrifice our nationality.

17. Can't we stop to think about the other nations? Don't we realize that every one of them is more jealous of its own national sovereignty than we are of ours? They have been trained for centuries in national pride. And if they are willing to give up a part of their independence, for the sake of the limitless advantages of co-operation, can not we?

18. Not even family life is possible without mutual concession, compromise and self-sacrifice; how much less is world-life, the life of the Human Family!

19. If the United States heartily enters the League, one of the very first results will be the decrease of national armaments.

20. It is the huge armies and navies that keep the world poor and cause most of its suffering. Says the Bankers' Trust Company: "War creates the bulk of taxation. Outside of the maintenance of military establishment, the other expenses of government are relatively small. If a way could be found to stop war, the people would be prepared to take up enlarged plans for social betterment."

21. It is the workingmen, the poorer people, who suffer most from militarism, and would be most benefited by a League of Nations, which would relieve the world of its intolerable burden of destruction. It is they who fight in the armies, suffer death and wounds, it is they who eventually must pay the taxes of war by their labor.

22. Nobody profits by war except profiteers.

23. The kind of Feelings that prompt us to enter the League should be looked at and compared with the kind of Feelings that oppose.

The League is Idealistic; its opposition is Materialistic.

The League implies Optimism, a Belief in Humanity, a Confidence in the honor of other nations; its opposition implies Distrust, Suspicion, Hostility.

The League will promote Race Understandings; its opposite, Race Hates.

The League is in line with every

Noble, Chivalrous, Manly sentiment; its opposition is Captious, Sneering, Ungenerous.

The League proposes that the nations do business with each other as Gentlemen; without a League, we must go on as rival thieves and robbers.

The League spells Cooperation, as a world program; without the League there must be eternal cut-throat Competition.

24. Much has been made of the baggage that if we join the League American boys may have to be sent to Armenia, China or Africa to fight battles in which we have no concern.

They may, it is true. But without the League four million American boys had to take up arms to fight in Europe!

And without the League a similar crisis is likely to arise any day.

25. Would it not be better to have a few Americans in an army to help police the world, than to have the great body of American manhood called on any minute to help put out a universal conflagration?

26. The whole dispute between the political parties about "reservations" to the League, and as to which foot we shall first put forward as we enter, and as to whether we shall go in under Democratic or Republican leadership, is the veriest political piffle. It stinks in the nostrils of every intelligent patriot.

27. The League of Nations means Progress, Courage, Humanity. Opposition to it means Reaction, Cowardice and Provincialism.

28. This is the real battle of Armageddon. It is of much more value to the future of humanity that a League of Nations be successfully launched than that Germany be defeated. Men, who move heaven and earth to keep America out of the League are far worse enemies to the race than the Kaiser ever was.

29. The League is favored by the great majority of Thinkers, by Philosophers, men in Universities and Churches, by the American Federation of Labor, by Writers and by all who are concerned in Public Welfare. It is opposed by one class only—the partisan politicians and those influenced by them.

30. Every danger incurred by joining the League, and of course there are dangers, will be multiplied a hundred fold by staying out.

31. Every Religion, except the fierce heathenisms of national propaganda, has dreamed of some sort of universal peace to stop war, the most monstrous curse of mankind. Christianity, Judaism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Baháism, all have had the dream. The League of Nations moves with the great spiritual current of humanity.

32. The fear that the League is a deep plot of Great Britain to further her own interests is utterly silly. Would not France, Italy and the other nations who have joined have more reason to fear Great Britain than we have?

33. The League of Nations is not a far off question, one of politics and diplomacy that does not concern you and me.

34. It is of most vital, individual importance to every man, woman and child in the United States.

35. Does it mean nothing to you, mother, that your boy may be called out when he reaches manhood to take his post in the next world war?

36. Does it mean nothing to you, business man, that gigantic taxes be enforced on you to keep up a huge army and navy?

37. Does it mean nothing to you, workman, that you may be used as a pawn in the next game of bloody international chess?

38. Does it mean nothing to you, O lover of your race, when you pray daily that wars may cease and brotherhood prevail, that at last the nations of earth are honestly trying to answer your prayer?

39. But the final, conclusive and absolutely unanswerable argument for the League of Nations is simply this: IF NOT THIS—THEN WHAT?

What is the alternative?

For if there is to be no League, then we must clump back into the Old Order, every nation must go on arming to the teeth, tax burdens increase, and wars occur with the regularity of hell's clock strokes.

40. And, if we succeed in our noble experiment, if we establish a League of Nations, and if we disarm, think of what we can do with the enormous surplus of wealth which the race is constantly piling up, and which heretofore has been burnt up in powder!

41. What enormous public works we can undertake! What magnificent programs of education we can set forward among the earth's backward populations! What highways and bridges, what parks and palaces, what universities and temples, what vast commercial enterprises, what grandiose works for the betterment of mankind! Think of the staggering loads of treasure we must pour out in the next few years to pay the debts of the last world war, and shall we take no steps to prevent another?

42. These are some of the reasons why I do not hesitate to say that the League of Nations is of most immediate and personal concern to every one, that every one should inform himself upon it and that it is a fair test for every man, to show whether he be intelligent, progressive and humane, or uninformed, reactionary and biased.

43. Ex-president Taft cannot be accused of being a champion of Mr. Wilson or the Democratic party. In fact he has swallowed his convictions sufficiently to enable him to support Mr. Harding for President. He gives us, however, a clear statement upon the League of Nations. "Had I been in the Senate," he writes, "I would have voted for the League and the Treaty as submitted; and I advocated its ratification accordingly. I did not think and do not now think, that anything in the League Covenant as sent to the Senate, would violate the Constitution of the United States, or would involve us in wars which it would not be to the highest interest of the world and this country to suppress by universal boycott, and, if need be, by military force."

44. Moreover, I believe that the issue of the League transcends in its importance any domestic issues and would justify and require one who believes so to ignore party ties and secure this great boon for the world and this country."

45. Taking a dispassionate, forward look, one's calm judgment perceives that, in some way or other, the League of Nations will continue and that the

Madam, here's a real opportunity to purchase a becoming garment at a very modest price. The styles are good, and the materials much better than one would expect to find in such an inexpensive assortment, but most remarkable of all is the fact that in the entire collection of fifty garments, no two are alike in fashioning. This variety of mode is most pleasing, and further, insures you an exclusive choice.

Effects favored for present wear, such as straight-line models, coat styles and overdresses are included in this special group—some trimmed with braids and beads, and others with embroidery, accordion plaits, and dainty sashes of self-material.

50 BARRELS IN 35 MINUTES.

Well No. 2 of the Good Losers Oil Co. of Ashland, was swabbed out and the swab was run three times. On the third swabbing the well cleaned itself and ran 50 barrels of oil out of two lines into the tank in 35 minutes. One hour later, the bailer was run and it was found that the well had filled itself between 550 and 600 feet.

The indications are that this will be one of the best wells in this entire section. It is located on Bolts Fork—Ashland Independent.

MARY JANE SAYS--

Suits Long and Short--
It doesn't seem to matter greatly

But Fashion, of course, can tell by the difference of a hair's breadth in length or shortness whether they are of her 1920 family or not.

A 1920 ripple suit has a waistline slightly lower than last year's—and the ripple is apt to be cut in many different styles.

Blouse suits wit h jackets, ending with the blouse are appearing, and extremely long jackets in semi-fitting suits.

I have seen both very long and very short box jacket suits and embroidery on both jacket and skirt.

The embroideries are the touch of color in some conventional design used for trimming.

The better suits are fur trimmed.

Fashion can tell whether they are 1920 family.

Remember I am here to shop with you or for you.

R. T. BURNS—APPRECIATION
I see in your issue of August 25, notice of the departure of Judge R. T. Burns. Not dead, but gone home. Many sweet reminiscences crowd into my memory as I sit here thinking of "Uncle Roll." He was among the first of my acquaintances when I set foot in the Big Sandy valley—1869. That acquaintance ripened into an admiration and friendship that can only be felt, not described. On entering the ministry I had this question propounded to me, on several different occasions, "Can a lawyer be a Christian?" I answered by pointing to R. T. Burns as a type of a constant Christian and a successful lawyer.

On one occasion "Uncle Roll" came into Martin county to hold a term of criminal court. Judge John Rice became sick; the grand jury was impeached and in his "instruction to the jury"—which will ever abide with me—I heard a splendid sermon. I told him so, and his reply lingered with me to-day; he said, "Lee, we have people, men and women, here in the court house who seldom, if ever enter a church or Sunday school, and I avail myself of this opportunity to preach to the multitudes through my 'instructions to the jury.'"

I have recited this often in my preaching on the power of a Christian life everywhere and at all times. "Uncle Roll" is gone. But those who knew him here, will know where to find him there.

There the ship's company meet, Who sailed with the Savior beneath; With shouting each other they greet, And triumph o'er sorrow and death." A. LEE BARRETT.

COOL DISHES FOR HOT DAYS.

Frozen dishes, cooling drinks and relative dishes of various kinds are especially agreeable for this season of the year.

Pineapple Cream.—Make a syrup by boiling two cups of water with one of sugar for fifteen minutes; strain and cool, add one can of grated pineapple and freeze to a mush. Fold in the whip from two cups of heavy cream. Let stand thirty minutes to harden before serving.

Cafe Frappe.—Beat the white of an egg slightly, add one-half cupful of cold water, and mix with one-half cupful of ground coffee; turn into a scalded coffeepot, add one quart of boiling water and boil three minutes. Let stand on the back part of the range ten minutes; strain, add one cupful of sugar, cool and freeze to a mush. Serve in frappe glasses with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored.

Strawberry Ice Cream.—Take two quarts of strawberries, hull and sprinkle with one and three-fourths cups of sugar. Let stand one hour, mash, and rub through a sieve. Scald one and one-half cups of milk, add one and one-half tablespoonsful of arrow root to a half cupful of milk. Add to the hot milk and cook ten minutes. Cool, add cream, freeze to a mush, add the fruit and finish freezing.

Snow Pudding.—Soak two tablespoonsful of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water, dissolve in one cupful of boiling water, add one and one-half cups of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice and one and one-fourth cups of orange juice. When beginning to thicken fold in the whites of three eggs beaten stiff.

More Precious Than Gold.

There are now several metals, not to mention priceless radium, which are valued at much more than their weight in gold; iridium at $170 an ounce, palladium at $130 and platinum at $105. Gold is $25 an ounce. Yet there is something more precious than platinum, long considered the most expensive of all.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Be Cheerful.

Keep a stiff upper lip, and rise above the clouds of adversity, do they threaten momentarily to overwhelm you. Thus may you be led to forget your precarious position, until soon a ray of hope penetrates the darkness and the day dawns forth with renewed brilliancy.

Don't allow your mind to dwell on dismal themes, lest a gloomy imagination run away with you. It always magnifies grief and magnifies misfortune.

Interest yourself in the present, and diffuse the extra pleasures of the day through succeeding ones, in order to enliven the whole week.

Preserve the memory of past happiness until sure of a fresh supply, but never place yourself in the position to lose sight of both. It is as oppressive as the darkness of a total eclipse.

About the most disagreeable habit that anyone can get into is the nagging habit. We all have times when we feel like nagging and the best way for anyone to avoid unpleasantness at such times is to go off by one's self and fight off the ugly mood. Nagging has ruined more homes than anyone realizes because it is at the start of many more conspicuous evils.

Your best blessings are not recognized by you until they have vanished, your common privileges have little value to you till you are deprived of them. Your home inspires no special gratitude till you are cast houseless upon the world. Your friends, the companions of your life, the dear sharers of your every day experience—how little do you prize the tenderness of their love or the beauty of their character, until the quiet, unceasing ministry of goodness has ceased forever.

One of the most encouraging signs of national advancement is the increased and deeper thinking on the part of our young women. They are filling a growing number of important in our larger concerns.

The kitchen in a house may represent an engine room in a steamship, and the cook may represent the engineer. However, beautifully furnished the rest of the ship is, if the engineer is incapable, or the engine is broken, all will go wrong; so it is with the home; no matter how nice the parlors are furnished, if the cook is not competent, everyone connected with the home will have to suffer the consequences.

Stirring up bitterness in a neighbor's heart is never profitable or pleasant.

Most of us are inclined to take our family too much for granted just the same as we take our town and very often a family, or certain members of it, need boosting quite as well as a town.

It doesn't pay to gossip about one's neighbors. Let us have only kind thoughts and good words for every one, and be sure to lend a helping hand whenever occasion calls for it. In trying to lighten another's burden, we forget our own; and the kind thoughts we send out come back to us like echoes.

The person that has wiped wet eyes, moistened parched tongues, put a new star in the sky of a dark life, added beauty and bloom, the song of birds and the blossom of flowers to the lot of another is—whether he be rich or poor, known or unknown, bound or free—one of God's nobility.

The past is fixed. No tears can wash away its facts. We should waste no regrets upon it; but, from the wisdom which its very sins have taught us, we should start afresh on the race.

Take as much care of your money as you can if your means are limited, but don't try to save your smiles or kind words. The more liberal you are with these the more you will have.

Enjoy the blessings of today, if God sends them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly.

The rarest feeling that ever lights the human face is the contentment of a loving soul.

It takes a very little brains and much less piety to constitute a first class grumbler.

SKAGGS

Jas. C. Skaggs, of Terryville, has sold his grocery store at Portsmouth, Ohio, to Samuel B. Terry and is now back home helping his wife Senna with the boys and farm.

Leo Skaggs Jr. went to Louisa Friday to sell his royalty on his 25-acre tract. He is getting $100 per acre.

A. E. Lyon is on the sick list.

Andy Skaggs went to Louisa this week to take Harry Atkinson and wife Harry is one of the Union Oil Co. drillers and he and his wife are gone home to prepare for winter.

The oil well that has been drilled in on Ben Ferguson's place is another gusher. Also well No. 5 on the Jess Lyon lease is also as good as the other four.

The Union people have hauled a drilling machine in Dr. Proctor Sparks corn field. Nothing has been done but some corn cut and the machine lying there idle.

There are so many people here so anxious for a well to be drilled on their land that they think it almost a crime to let machines lay idle.

Cam Lemaster and wife spent the week end at Jack Vanover's.

Ferd Conley and wife, of Flat Gap, are visiting at Jas. H. Skaggs' this week.

P. P. Holbrook has just returned from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. H. R. Skaggs at McRoberts. Dr. Higis, his wife Carrie, Pleas and Ernest Jayne with an Italian driver motored in the Doctor's new car through the breaks at the head of Big Sandy, Wise, Russell, Texas counties in old Virginia, down Clinch river and on to Bluefield, W. Va. Pleas came back home quite jubilant.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Cynthia Fyffe. She died Sunday, Sept. 19. She took typhoid fever and lingered, getting better then worse, until the end came. She leaves a husband (Joe Fyffe) and a large family nearly all grown of boys and girls to mourn their loss. She lived near Relief, in Morgan county, and was an applicant.

Stirring up bitterness in a neighbor's heart is never profitable or pleasant.

Most of us are inclined to take our family too much for granted just the same as we take our town and very often a family, or certain members of it, need boosting quite as well as a town.

It doesn't pay to gossip about one's neighbors. Let us have only kind thoughts and good words for every one, and be sure to lend a helping hand whenever occasion calls for it. In trying to lighten another's burden, we forget our own; and the kind thoughts we send out come back to us like echoes.

The person that has wiped wet eyes, moistened parched tongues, put a new star in the sky of a dark life, added beauty and bloom, the song of birds and the blossom of flowers to the lot of another is—whether he be rich or poor, known or unknown, bound or free—one of God's nobility.

The past is fixed. No tears can wash away its facts. We should waste no regrets upon it; but, from the wisdom which its very sins have taught us, we should start afresh on the race.

Take as much care of your money as you can if your means are limited, but don't try to save your smiles or kind words. The more liberal you are with these the more you will have.

Enjoy the blessings of today, if God sends them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly.

The rarest feeling that ever lights the human face is the contentment of a loving soul.

It takes a very little brains and much less piety to constitute a first class grumbler.

There will be a pie social at the Lower Lick Creek school house Saturday night, Sept. 25.

Certain-teed Roofing Costs Less to Lay

You will appreciate the low cost and convenience of laying Certain-teed Roofing.

Skilled labor is not required to lay it properly. You save much of the expense of hiring trained workmen and avoid delays because of a scarcity of such men.

But this is only one of the Certain-teed economies. It also costs less to buy and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing. In addition, Certain-teed roofing is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It is guaranteed for five, ten or fifteen years, according to weight. Experience proves that it usually outlasts its guarantee by years of satisfactory service.

See your dealer about Certain-teed Roofing. If he can't fill your entire order from stock, he can get what you want quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

CERTAINTY OF QUALITY AND GUARANTEED SATISFACTION—CERTAIN-TEED

OIL FAMINE FEARED

Washington, September 10.—Methods whereby one barrel of oil will give twice or three times the service it now gives must be devised at once, Government geologists declared to-day in announcing that America had reached the peak of her oil production, and that the end of 1921 would mark the start of a constant decline in the petroleum output in America.

Experts have completed a survey of oil land possibilities and the possible development of known reserves, and are convinced that one-half of the oil deposits of the country have been depleted.

Due to this situation, it is pointed out, it is imperative that the remaining deposits be made to give as much service as possible.

In 1919 the United States produced three fifths of the petroleum output of the world, 377,719,000 barrels out of 559,539,000, and all of it was consumed in this country.

But consumption has mounted as steadily and, despite heavier importations from Mexico, Trinidad and Tobago, reserves of oil are about 8,000,000 barrels smaller than at the beginning of last winter.

Since June 1 daily production in all fields has amounted to about 1,240,000 barrels. Yet during this same period consumption has averaged 1,420,000 barrels daily, the difference being made up from importations from Mexico, which now average close to 250,000 barrels, and which alone have made possible any building of reserve stocks.

Estimates recently presented by Dr. David White, Chief Geologist of the Geological Survey, placed the amount of petroleum remaining in the ground at probably 6,740,000,000 barrels, as of January, 1919. The total produced to that date was 4,598,144,000 barrels.

Adding the 1919 production of 377,719,000 barrels and the expected production of 450,000,000 barrels in 1920, to the amount produced, and by January, 1921 just about one half of the total oil in the country will have been taken out.

WHAT'S DOING IN POLITICS

This week marks the first invasion of Kentucky by Democratic speakers of national reputation during the present campaign.

At Louisville Monday night Mrs. Geo. Bass and Mrs. Borden Harriman addressed a woman's mass-meeting at Phoenix Hall Park. It was the first women's political rally of any size ever held in Louisville and also marked the first time that women vice presidents served at the gathering.

Mrs. Bass, who lives in Chicago, is the first woman ever to wield a gavel during a national convention. For a short time at San Francisco she relieved Chairman Joe Robinson of his duties. Mrs. Harriman is national president of the Cox and Roosevelt clubs.

Another star of the "big-time" circuit was brought to Kentucky this week in the person of Mrs. Ietta Jewell Brown, who is spending the entire week in the state. Mrs. Brown was Ietta Jewell, the actress, and made a seconding speech for the nomination of John W. Davis, at the San Francisco convention that moved the bandmaster to play "O, You Beautiful Doll." Mrs. Brown is a speaker of rare magnetism and was the best at either national convention.

Charles H. Brough, former governor of Missouri, is booked for Winchester and Lexington on September 22 and for Harrodsburg and Shelbyville the 23rd.

The influx of speakers from the national speaking bureau will be followed by others. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, who is proving such an attractive candidate to the independent voter, will speak in Kentucky on October 1 and 2. One of the speeches will be in Louisville and two others will probably be made by him in Central Kentucky.

Gov. Cox will make the state on the windup of his long tour according to advices from national headquarters. J. H. Shouse and Senator Duncan Fletcher of Florida will also speak in the state.

Senator J. C. W. Beckham and Congressman Ben Johnson have pledged the support of the women of Nelson county. Both are sons of that county up for re-election.

Senator Beckham is on a two weeks tour of the mountain district of the state. He has always been popular in the Republican stronghold of the state because of legislation enacted during his term as governor clearing the land titles to property ripe for development.

"To the Republican machine 'Votes for Women' means votes for colored women," says an editorial in the Louisville Evening Post. "Now that the ballot has been given to all women, it is assuming far too much to believe that the white women of Kentucky will not use it, but will allow themselves to be represented by the 75,000 colored women of voting age in this state."

During six years in the United States Senate Warren G. Harding has missed 1,163 roll calls. He was not absent from Washington, but didn't want to be recorded, so spent his time in the cloakrooms "trimming." A slacker in the Senate, it is unlikely that he can be regarded as a man for the White House.

Registration days in cities of the first four classes should not be forgotten. The first day falls on October 5 and where enacted by ordinance the next day is also a registration day.

While a Congressman and a candidate for Governor James M. Cox worked vigorously for the adoption of the present Ohio constitution, regarded as one of the most progressive in the country. Harding the reactionary opposed it and when it was adopted declared "Ohio has cast off her moorings; the Revolution is on." The utterance was typical of Harding's attitude toward all progress.

BO' ORATOR WILL CAMPAIGN FOR COX

HARRIS G. WHITTENBERG.

Something new in the speaking line will be offered Kentucky citizens when the Democrats put Harris Gilbert Whittenberg on the stump later in the campaign.

Whittenberg is the fourteen-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Jesse I. Whittenberg of Jefferson county. His father was former county health officer. Young Whittenberg has made an intensive study of the League of Nations and delivers a clear and interesting oration on this subject. He was formerly a page in the Kentucky Senate and on his election made a speech of thanks to the legislators that won him much applause.

WHAT IS DOING ON THE POLITICAL BATTLE FIELDS

Mr. Harding says he and his group of advisers will return this country to the old order of things. So if you are tired of prosperity, and want to get back to the old days of gang rule, low wages, scarce money, hard times, high tariff, panic menace, Wall street control, vote for Harding. He promises to put us back there, and every rich pirate in the manufacturing line is for him.

Woolen Mills Shut Down.

For three months the mills of the American Woolen Company were all closed, and in New England alone one hundred thousand persons were thrown out of employment. The president of the company, Mr. Wood, gives as the reason for the shutdown the cancellation of orders amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars. Labor leaders say this is a strike against labor, and they propose to see what can be done about it. The wool growers regard it as a scheme to force down the price of raw wool. The garment manufacturers protest against it as an effort to keep up the price of woolen cloth and thus to reduce their profit and keep the prices of ready-to-wear garments high. The dealers in ready-to-wear goods say that they have canceled orders because of the high prices and the belief that prices must go down. Certain Democratic politicians see in it a repeating of the tactics of 1896, when "many large employers shut down for political effect, to influence the vote in favor of the Republican candidates." Some editors pronounce it a "diabolical device to create an artificial shortage so that profiteering may continue" and regard such a policy as a "conspiracy against the public." But whatever may be the motives and the causes for the shut-down, certain results are self-evident: It adds fuel to the already pronounced spirit of unrest; it means suffering for the workers and those dependent upon them; it creates a poor market and the lowering of prices for raw wool and works a hardship on the producer; it will force the garment manufacturers to shut down if the mills are not put into operation again soon; it makes it certain that the prices of ready-to-wear goods will remain high, and the public must suffer. Increase in the production of all needed commodities is a world-wide need. If capitalists and labor could only appreciate this and work together to that end, all would be benefited.

It looks like one of the old schemes of the rich manufacturers to fool the laboring men and the masses of the people to vote the Republican ticket in November. They have always worked this diabolical plot with more or less success in presidential years. It is time the people quit falling for it. Never was there greater prosperity in the United States than now and no manufacturer is justified in closing his mills. There is a shortage in every kind of production and it is a crime to close mills and further restrict the supply. The Democratic party has always refused to grant special favors to manufacturers, to further fatten and enrich them at the expense of the public, and that is why they resort to all kinds of schemes, and contribute great sums of money to defeat the Democratic party. No manufacturer who makes money his god can be blamed for supporting the Republican ticket. Neither can any man who expects to get an office from that party. But why anyone else should do so in the face of the great record of the Democratic party it is difficult to see. Blind partisanship is the only explanation.

The Federal Reserve law is the only thing that is making it impossible for the manufacturers to start a panic now to influence the presidential election. That law has destroyed panics. But if that old bunch that is now trying to buy the presidency and a Congress again should succeed, they will so amend the Federal Reserve law as to make it useless and give back to them the control of money and credits, and therefore the power to make panics and return this country to low wages and poverty. Again we would have the old conditions that made the rich richer and the poor poorer.

OBITUARY

J. M. Browning was born Nov. 5, 1857, died Feb. 21, 1920, aged 62 years, 3 months and 16 days. He was converted August, 1912, and lived a true Christian 8 years. He left a wife and 6 children—three boys and three girls, and many friends to mourn, but while we mourn we have a bright hope that beyond the confines of time and over there he has kissed the dew on the bank of the river of life and resting sweetly resting under the shade of the tree of life. O what a country. Let us go. Will you go? We want to go. God help us to go.

ADAM HARMAN.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

II

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

III

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

IV

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

The boy succumbed to the wound in an hour or so after the accident.

Circuit Court.

Circuit court has been doing exceedingly well, disposing of many cases in the past ten days of its session. One of the most important cases to be tried was that of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against Annie Scott and John Cornett, charged with killing Willie Scott, in April, 1919. The trial resulted in an acquittal of both defendants.

The trial of Joe Morgan Thornburg, charged with cutting A. F. Prater with intent to kill, resulted in a verdict of $50.00.

IN MEMORY OF MR. BURNS.

Resolutions adopted by the Sunday school of the M. E. Church South on the death of Mr. R. T. Burns:

Whereas, The God of infinite love and mercy is a covenant-keeping God and has fully verified and fulfilled to our departed brother all the promises, and especially those for the first Psalm and has satisfied him "with long life" far beyond the allotted "three score years and ten" and has indeed "shown him His salvation."

And Whereas, God has called him to rest from his labors and, laying aside the frail body of earth, "to be at home with the Lord." (2 Cor. 5:8.)

Be It Therefore Resolved, That in the death of brother R. T. Burns, Superintendent Emeritus of this Sunday school, we have sustained a very serious loss.

For thirty-seven years he was our superintendent and served with such zeal and untiring devotion to the cause that he placed this school at the head of the Sunday schools of the Western Virginia Conference in point of interest, attendance and results.

On the streets, in the homes, and everywhere he went, it seemed that he never missed an opportunity to speak of the Sunday school and to urge our people to attend. Upon his retirement, about seven years ago, because of feeble health, he was honored with the relation of superintendent Emeritus, which continued till his death.

In Sunday school circles throughout the State he was known as one of the most successful and effective leaders, and in recognition of this fact he was one of the very few men to receive an honorary life membership in the Kentucky State Sunday School Association. Another important branch of Sunday school work, inaugurated by Mr. Burns, was the organization of the Lawrence County Sunday School Association of which he was the president for many years.

Into this work he put the same energy which characterized all his christian service. And as a result of this county organization, Lawrence county has become one of the leading counties in Sunday school work in the entire State.

Be It Further Resolved, That this Sunday school gratefully recognizes the inestimable service rendered by Mr. Burns and that upon its records shall be spread this acknowledgment of his great work, and that this entire morning's service, both the hours for Sunday school and for public worship, be devoted to a memorial in his honor.

And Be It Further Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family in their loneliness our deepest sympathy, and join with them in the glorious hope of that brighter morning when the loved ones shall be reunited to part no more forever.

Chester Large, formerly of this county, who has lived near Circleville, O., for some time has bought a farm near Chillicothe, Ohio, and is moving to it.
